“The thing I believe was beneficial for me as a parent of a special needs child attending this camp was the way the Lighthorse officers and youth made him feel welcomed.”

UCONA CARTER

Chickasaw citizen Tony Carter attended the Chickasaw Lighthorse Police Youth Academy this summer to learn about law enforcement.

“Tony really loved attending the Lighthorse Academy. He would get excited once we pulled into the parking lot and even more excited once he saw the other youth and officers,” Ucona Carter, Tony’s mother, said. “Tony is in the 10th grade and has autism. He is nonverbal but can understand everything you say to him,” Carter said.

Carter said she does what she can to get him involved with programs and activities.

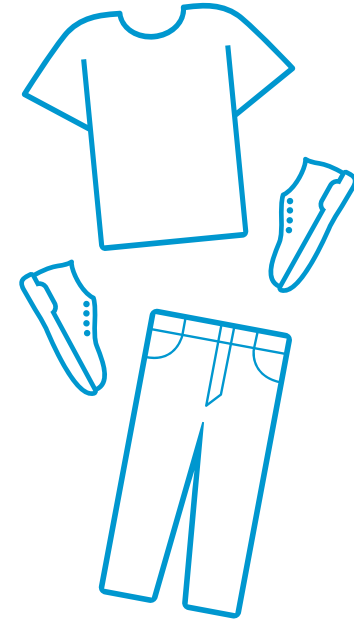

“The officers made sure the other youth interacted with him and included him in every activity. Everyone was very patient with Tony,” Carter said. “He will definitely be attending the Lighthorse Academy again.”

COMMERCE

The Chickasaw Nation continues to sustain a multitude of programs and services through our business diversification and investments. With new and long-term partnerships, we continue to be financially strong.

GOOD SPRINGS CAPITAL

A new partnership between the Chickasaw Nation and Good Springs Capital, LLP was announced in July 2023. The firm will focus on investing in profitable founder and entrepreneur-led companies with exceptional growth potential. The anchor investment in Good Springs represents another step in the Chickasaw Nation's investment capabilities, creating new revenue opportunities to develop and expand programs and services that benefit Chickasaw citizens and the broader community. In addition, the partnership offers Chickasaw citizens with a financial background the opportunity to work with the firm and gain knowledge and experience in the private capital investment business.

Chickasaw citizen Ashlyn Colbert is currently participating in the program. Colbert is a senior associate at Good Springs Capital.

"I came to work for the tribe to switch career paths from accounting because I was interested in finance and investing. For the past three years, I have been working in the department of commerce within the planning and performance department on business operations and diversification opportunities. In September, I took a leap of faith and moved to New York. The Chickasaw Nation has guided me and helped me to learn whatever I want. That's how it is in a lot of areas of the tribe. It doesn't matter what you're going to do. If there's something that you want to work in, the Chickasaw Nation will help you get there."

Colbert is grateful to her tribe for providing an invaluable learning experience and is looking forward to how she can continue her career with the tribe.

“ It doesn't matter what you're going to do. If there's something that you want to work in, the Chickasaw Nation will help you get there. ”

Many of the current programs and services for those living at-large were established based on direct feedback from citizens at previous conferences.

Vadare Cornelison was an attendee of the first conference in 2006 and traveled from Albuquerque, New Mexico, to attend the 2023 Chickasaw Listening Conference.

I was at the first listening conference, where a lot of productive suggestions were made. I really believe that Governor Anoatubby heard us and took our suggestions into consideration, many even came to fruition. I can't imagine what this is going to result in but I'm just beyond proud.

* In 2002, The Chickasaw Nation implemented Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 34, Basic Financial Statements - and Management's Discussion and Analysis - for State and Local Governments. Statement 34 changes our method of recording and reporting our fixed assets. In the past, when the nation purchased a fixed asset it was shown as an expenditure in the current year. Now the purchase is shown on the balance sheet as a capital asset and depreciated over its useful life.
